

Badge Holder Multi-Tool

The concept behind this Badge Holder is to save the everyday person from having to hunt for general tools they use on a regular basis but may leave behind by accident. Although the original concept was for NASA employees, these tools could be used for any industry that requires badges to be worn at work.

1. Does the team have a good Presentation Board (edited for spelling and grammar) with drawings, descriptions, early prototypes and any research to help them present their ideas?
